The Value of Learning from Similar Organizations

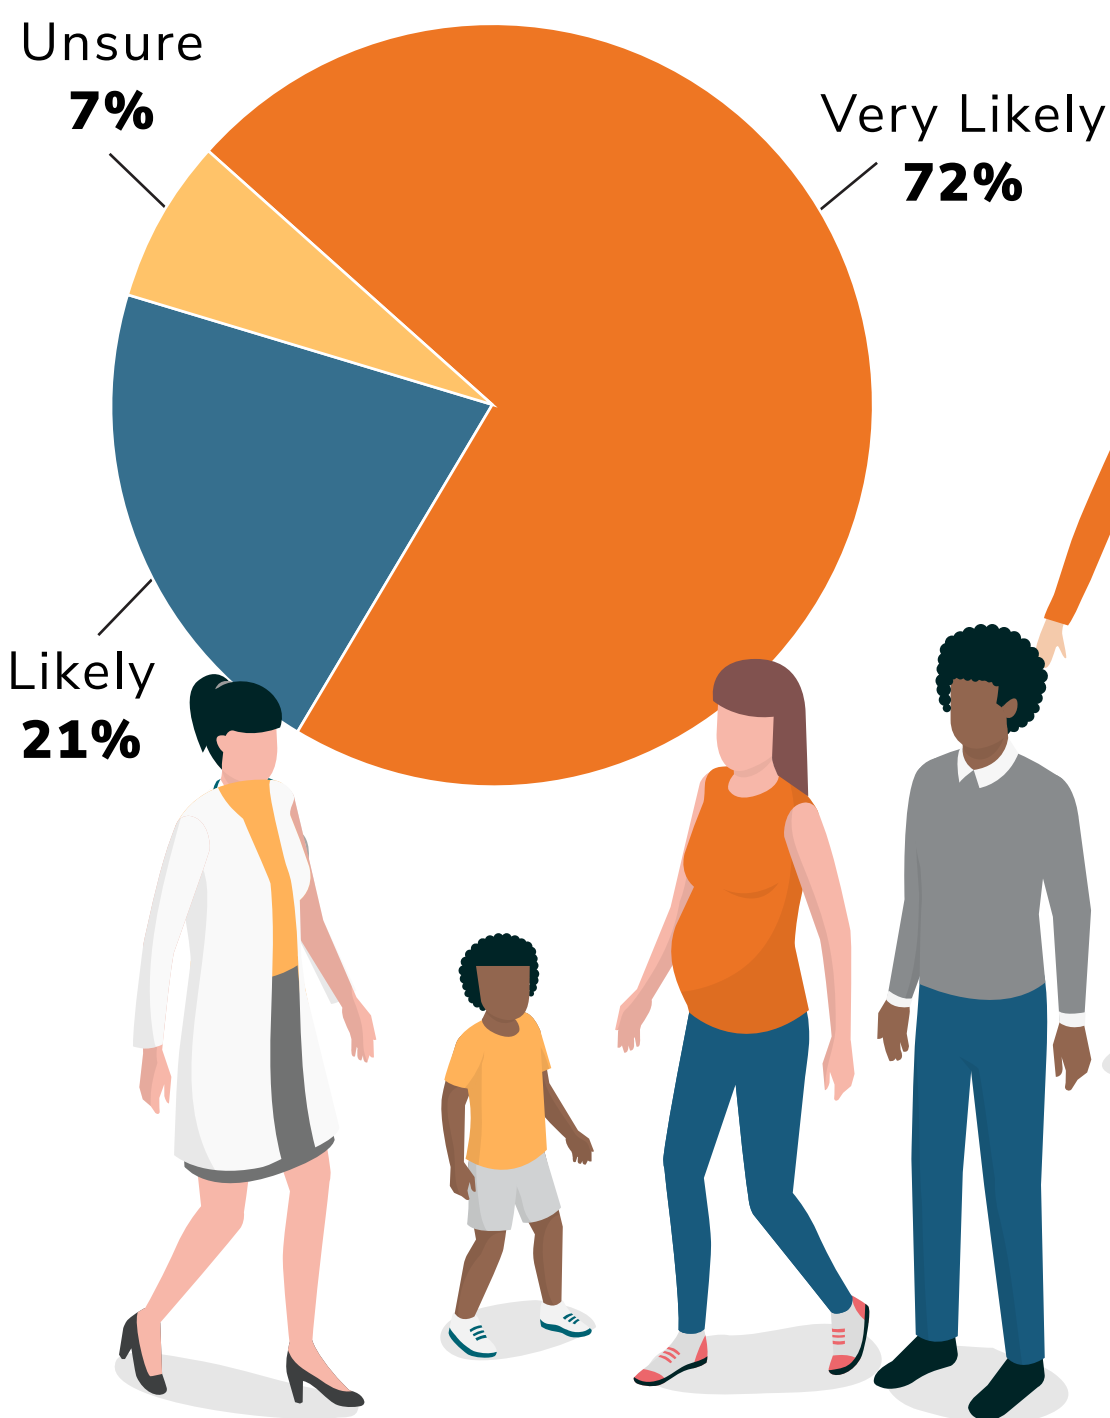

Survey respondents noted the value of hearing from different types of organizations about the approaches they are using to solve problems similar to those that affect MassHealth ACOs and CPs.

“(It was valuable) to get a different perspective on the subject from professionals who each integrated care in a different way.”

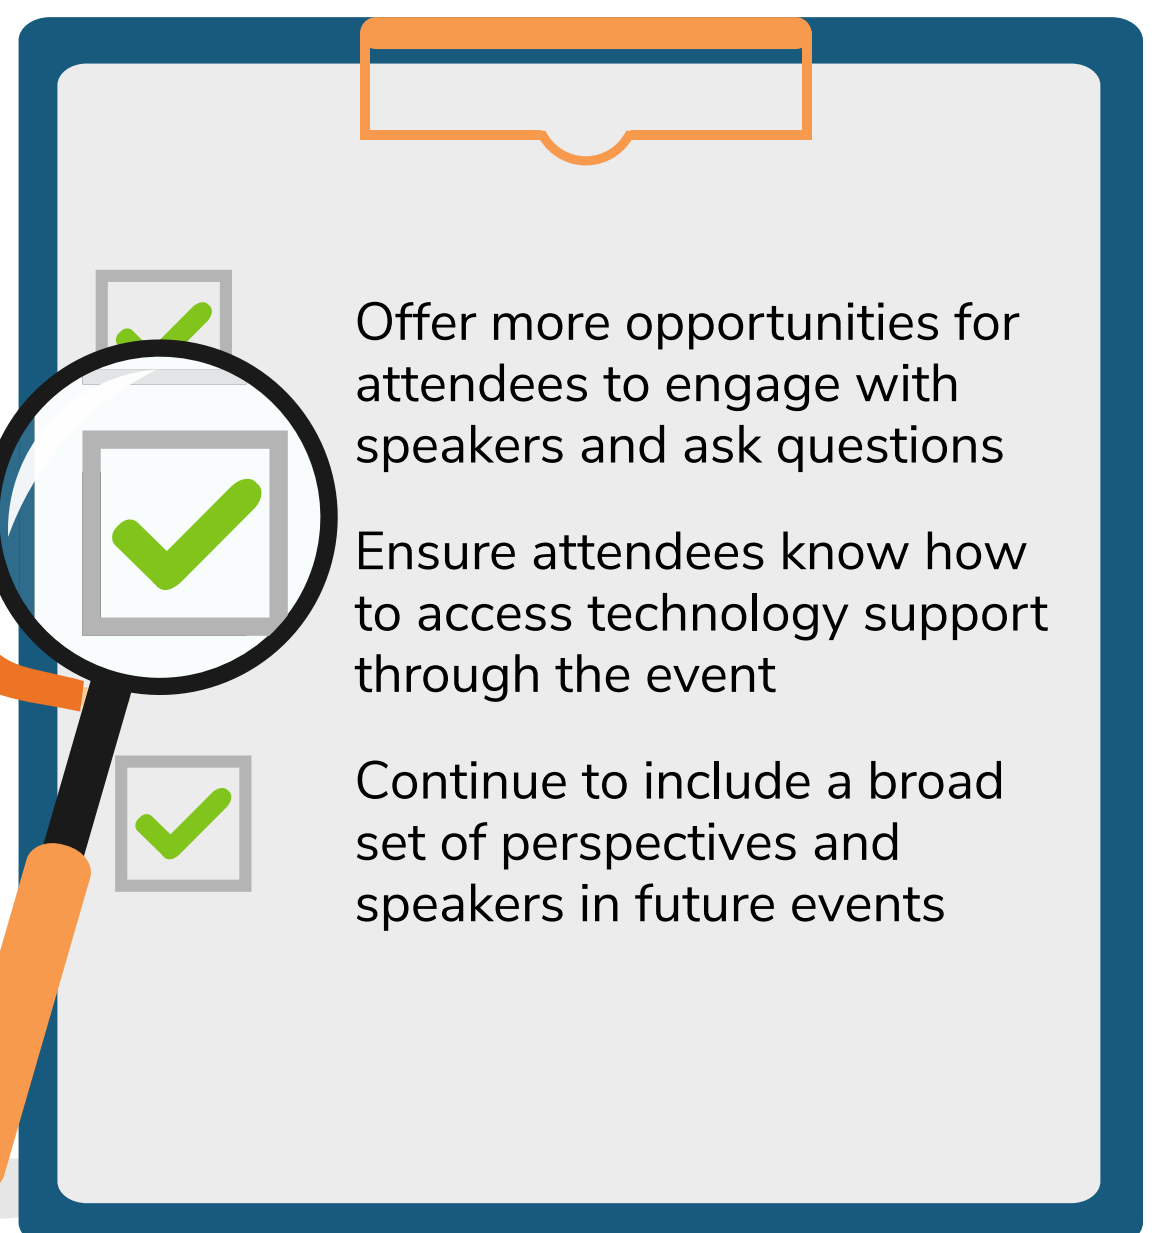

“(We appreciated) hearing from both physicians and dentists, and from someone who works to integrate nutrition into the dental needs of patients.”

Who is Coming Back for Future Pop Up Events? (n=14)
